Each return or statement must include the information required by the rules of the department.
(b) For the purpose of determining compliance with the provisions of [sections 55 through 64], the department is authorized to examine or cause to be examined any books, papers, records, or memoranda relevant to making a determination of the amount of tax due, whether the books, papers, records, or memoranda are the property of or in the possession of the person filing the return or another person. In determining compliance, the department may use statistical sampling and other sampling techniques consistent with generally accepted auditing standards. The department may also:
(i) require the attendance of a person having knowledge or information relevant to a return;
(ii) compel the production of books, papers, records, or memoranda by the person required to attend;

(2) If the tax due exceeds the amount of tax reported as due on the taxpayer's return, the excess must be paid to the department within 30 days after notice of the amount and demand for payment are mailed or delivered to the person making the return unless the taxpayer files a timely objection as provided in 15-1-211. If the amount of the tax found due by the department is less than that reported as due on the return and has been paid, the excess must be credited or, if no tax liability exists or is likely to exist, refunded to the person making the return.
(3) The notice and demand provided for in this section must contain a statement of the computation of the tax and interest and must be:
(a) sent by mail to the taxpayer at the address given in the taxpayer's return, if any, or to the taxpayer's last-known address; or
(b) served personally upon the taxpayer.
(4) A taxpayer filing an objection to the demand for payment is subject to and governed by the uniform dispute review procedure provided in 15-1-211."

(3) As provided in 15-1-705, the taxpayer has the right to a review of the tax liability prior to any offset by the department.

Insert: "NEW SECTION. Section 62. Limitations. (1) Except in the case of a person that purposely or knowingly, as those terms are defined in 45-2-101, files a false or fraudulent return violating the provisions of [sections 55 through 64], a deficiency may not be assessed or collected with respect to a year for which a return is filed unless the notice of additional tax proposed to be assessed is mailed to or personally served upon the taxpayer within 5 years from the date that the return was filed. For purposes of this section, a return filed before the last day prescribed for filing is considered to be filed on the last day.

(2) If, before the expiration of the 5-year period prescribed in subsection (1) for assessment of the tax, the taxpayer consents in writing to an assessment after expiration of the 5-year period, a deficiency may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period to which consent was given."

(b) Except as provided in subsection (2)(c), interest must be paid from the date that the return was due or the date of overpayment, whichever is later. Senator Thomas moved the committee rise, report progress, and beg leave to sit again. Motion carried. Committee arose. Senate resumed. President Keenan in the chair. Chairman Tropila moved the Committee of the Whole report be adopted. Report adopted unanimously.

The primary dwelling place is the single place where an individual has a fixed and permanent home and principal establishment and to which whenever the individual is absent the individual has the intention of returning. The homestead may be occupied by any members of the owner's household as their home. The homestead includes appurtenant land not exceeding 5 acres owned or under contract for deed and that is reasonably necessary for the use of the dwelling as a home.
(2) (a) To qualify as a homestead, the property must have been the owner's primary dwelling place on January 1 of the year for which the claim is made and for at least 7 months during the prior year. If the dwelling was owned by the claimant for less than 1 year, the claimant must have resided in the dwelling for a majority of the time that the claimant owned the dwelling.

(b) A primary dwelling that qualifies as a homestead continues to qualify as a homestead if the claimant resides in a health care facility and the owner does not rent or lease the dwelling to others.
(3) (a) For the purposes of this section, a person is considered an owner if the person:
(i) is the grantor, or the person's spouse is the grantor, of a revocable or irrevocable trust owning the property and is named as a beneficiary of the trust; or
(ii) is a partner of a limited partnership, a member of a limited liability company, or a shareholder of a corporation owning the property and the person holds at least a 5% ownership in the limited partnership, limited liability company, or corporation.
(b) A person claiming ownership under subsection (3)(a) shall provide the department with an affidavit setting forth the reasons the person should be considered the owner of the property, and attached to the affidavit must be copies of the appropriate trust or business entity documents indicating the legal basis for the person's ownership interest.
(4) If a property is a single-family dwelling owned by a business, an occupant who is an employee of the business is considered an owner for the purposes of this section.
(5) (a) An owner shall apply for certification of homestead status to the department not later than a date set by the department by rule. On the application, supplied by the department, the owner shall certify that the owner is making an application for a homestead exemption under this section, that the dwelling is the owner's homestead as established in subsections (1) and (2), and that the owner has not made any other application for the exemption on any other residential property.
(b) A homestead exemption remains in effect as long as the homestead property meets the requirements of subsections (1) and (2).
(c) A homestead exemption expires when ownership of the property changes and the property reverts to class four property.
(6) The owner of a homestead and other residential dwellings may elect to have the homestead exemption apply to the owner's primary dwelling place or any one of the owner's other residential dwellings. The homestead exemption may not apply to a dwelling that the owner rents or leases to others."

1. Title, page 1, line 15.

Following: "BRACKETS;"
Insert: "PROVIDING RATE ADJUSTMENTS TO CLASS FOUR PROPERTY TAX RATES FOR CERTAIN RESIDENCES WITH EXTRAORDINARY INCREASES IN MARKET VALUE;"
Following: "FOUR"
Strike: "AND CLASS ELEVEN"
2. Page 9, line 28.
Insert: "NEW SECTION. Section 1. Extended property tax assistance — phasein. (1) For the purpose of mitigating extraordinary market value increases during the revaluation cycle that ended December 31, 2002, the rate of taxation of class four residential dwellings and appurtenant land not to exceed 5 acres otherwise set in 15-6-134(2)(a) is adjusted in this section for properties with extraordinary increases in market value.
(2) A rate adjustment may not be granted for:
(a) any property that was sold or for which the ownership was changed after December 31, 2002, unless the change in ownership is between husband and wife or parent and child with only nominal actual consideration or the change is pursuant to a divorce decree;
(b) the value of new construction, including remodeling, on the property occurring after December 31, 2002, that is greater than 25% of the market value of the improvements; or
(c) a land use change occurring after December 31, 2002, that increases the market value of the land by more than 25%.
(3) For the purposes of determining the adjustment in the class four property tax rate in this section, the following provisions apply:
(a) The taxable value before reappraisal is the 2002 tax year value adjusted for any new construction or destruction that occurred in tax year 2002. The taxable value before reappraisal for the 2003 tax year and subsequent years is the same as the 2002 tax year value if no new construction, destruction, land splits, land use changes, land reclassifications, land productivity changes, improvement grade changes, or other changes are made to the property during 2002 or subsequent tax years.
(b) The percentage increase in taxable value is measured as the percentage change in taxable value before reappraisal to the taxable value after reappraisal. The taxable value before reappraisal is calculated by multiplying the value before reappraisal in 2003 times 0.69 times 0.0346. The taxable value after reappraisal is calculated by multiplying the 2003 market value after reappraisal times 0.66 times 0.0301.
(c) The dollar increase in tax liability is measured as the change in tax liability before reappraisal to the tax liability after reappraisal. The tax liability before reappraisal is calculated by multiplying the value before reappraisal in 2003 times 0.69 times 0.0346 times the tax year 2002 mill levy applied to the property. The tax liability after reappraisal is calculated by multiplying the 2003 market value after reappraisal times 0.66 times 0.0301 times the tax year 2002 mill levy applied to the property. The tax year 2002 mill levy is the total of all mills applied to the property for fiscal year 2003.
(d) The phase-in value is the valuation change made pursuant to 15-7-111(3) since the last reappraisal.
(4)(a) If the percentage increase in taxable value is greater than 36%, and the dollar increase in taxable liability is $250 or greater, then the property qualifies for an adjusted tax rate as follows:
(i) For tax year 2003, the tax rate is 0.03668 times the value before reappraisal divided by the 2003 phase-in value.
(ii) For tax year 2004, the tax rate is 0.03898 times the value before reappraisal divided by the 2004 phase-in value.
(iii) For tax year 2005, the tax rate is 0.04143 times the value before reappraisal divided by the 2005 phase-in value.
(iv) For tax year 2006, the tax rate is 0.04392 times the value before reappraisal divided by the 2006 phase-in value.
(v) For tax year 2007, the tax rate is 0.04646 times the value before reappraisal divided by the 2007 phase-in value.
(vi) For tax year 2008 and after, the tax rate is 0.04919 times the value before reappraisal divided by the 2008 phase-in value.
(b) The adjusted tax rate computed under this subsection (4) must be rounded to the nearest one-hundredth of 1%."

Insert: "Section 1. Section 15-1-402, MCA, is amended to read:
"15-1-402. Payment of taxes under protest. (1) The person upon whom a property tax or fee is being imposed under this title may, before the property tax or fee becomes delinquent, pay under written protest that portion of the property tax or fee protested. The protested payment must:
(a) be made to the officer designated and authorized to collect it;
(b) specify the grounds of protest; and
(c) not exceed the difference between the payment for the immediately preceding tax year and the amount owing in the tax year protested unless a different amount results from the specified grounds of protest, which may include but are not limited to changes in assessment due to reappraisal under 15-7-111.
(2) A person appealing a property tax or fee pursuant to chapter 2 or 15 shall pay the tax or fee under protest when due in order to receive a refund. If the tax or fee is not paid under protest when due, the appeal may continue but a tax or fee may not be refunded as a result of the appeal.
(3) If a protested property tax or fee is payable in installments, a subsequent installment portion considered unlawful by the state tax appeal board need not be paid and an action or suit need not be commenced to recover the subsequent installment. The determination of the action or suit commenced to recover the first installment portion paid under protest determines the right of the party paying the subsequent installment to have it or any part of it refunded to the party or the right of the taxing authority to collect a subsequent installment not paid by the taxpayer plus interest from the date the subsequent installment was due.
(4)(a) All Except as provided in subsection (4)(b), all property taxes and fees paid under protest to a county or municipality must be deposited by the treasurer of the county or municipality to the credit of a special fund to be designated as a protest fund and must be retained in the protest fund until the final determination of any action or suit to recover the taxes and fees unless they are released at the request of the county, municipality, or other local taxing jurisdiction pursuant to subsection (5). This section does not prohibit the investment of the money of this fund in the state unified investment program or in any manner provided in Title 7, chapter 6. The provision creating the special protest fund does not apply to any payments made under protest directly to the state.
(b) (i) Property taxes that are levied by the state must be remitted by the county treasurer to the state treasurer.
(ii) The state treasurer shall deposit that portion of the funds levied pursuant to 15-10-107 in the state special revenue fund. The remainder of the funds must be deposited in the state general fund.
(5) The governing board body of a taxing jurisdiction affected by the payment of taxes under protest in the second and subsequent years that a tax protest remains unresolved may demand that the treasurer of the county or municipality pay the requesting taxing jurisdiction all or a portion of the protest payments to which it is entitled, except the amount paid by the taxpayer in the first year of the protest. The decision in a previous year of a taxing jurisdiction to leave protested taxes in the protest fund does not preclude it from demanding in a subsequent year any or all of the payments to which it is entitled, except the first-year protest amount.
(6) (a) If action before the county tax appeal board, state tax appeal board, or district court is not commenced within the time specified or if the action is commenced and finally determined in favor of the department of revenue, county, municipality, or treasurer of the county or the municipality, the amount of the protested portions of the property tax or fee must be taken from the protest fund and deposited to the credit of the fund or funds to which the property tax belongs, less a pro rata deduction for the costs of administration of the protest fund and related expenses charged to the local government units.

(b) (i) If the action is finally determined adversely to the department of revenue, a county, a municipality, or the treasurer of a county or a municipality, then the treasurer shall, upon receiving a certified copy of the final judgment in the action from the state tax appeal board or from the district or supreme court, as appropriate, if the final action of the state tax appeal board is appealed in the time prescribed, refund to the person in whose favor the judgment is rendered the amount of the protested portions of the property tax or fee deposited in the protest fund, and not released pursuant to subsection (5), as the person holding the judgment is entitled to recover, together with interest from the date of payment under protest, at the greater of:
(i) the rate of interest generated from the pooled investment fund provided for in 17-6-203 for the applicable period; or
(ii) 6% a year governmental entity levying the tax, then the treasurer of the municipality, county, or state entity levying the tax shall, upon receipt of a certified copy of the final judgment in the action and upon expiration of the time set forth for appeal of the final judgment, refund to the person in whose favor the judgment is rendered the amount of the protested portions of the property tax or fee that the person holding the judgment is entitled to recover, together with interest from the date of payment under protest.
(ii) The taxing jurisdiction shall pay interest at the rate of interest generated from the pooled investment fund provided for in 17-6-203 for the applicable period.
(c) If the amount retained in the protest fund is insufficient to pay all sums due the taxpayer, the treasurer shall apply the available amount first to tax repayment, then to interest owed, and lastly to costs.
(d) If the protest action is decided adversely to a taxing jurisdiction and the amount retained in the protest fund is insufficient to refund the tax payments and costs to which the taxpayer is entitled and for which local government units are responsible, the treasurer shall bill and the taxing jurisdiction shall refund to the treasurer that portion of the taxpayer refund, including tax payments and costs, for which the taxing jurisdiction is proratably responsible.
(e) In satisfying the requirements of subsection (6)(d), the taxing jurisdiction is allowed not more than 1 year 10 years from the beginning of the fiscal year following a final resolution of the protest for property centrally assessed pursuant to 15-23-101 and not more than 1 year for all other property. The taxpayer is entitled to interest on the unpaid balance at the greater of the rates rate referred to in subsections (6)(b)(i) and (6)(b)(ii) subsection (6)(b) from the date of payment under protest until the date of final resolution of the protest and at the combined rate of the federal reserve discount rate quoted from the federal reserve bank in New York, New York, on the date of final resolution, plus four two percentage points, from the date of final resolution of the protest until refund is made.
(7) A taxing jurisdiction may satisfy the requirements of this section by use of funds from one or more of the following sources:
(a) imposition of a property tax to be collected by a special tax protest refund levy;
(b) the general fund or any other funds legally available to the governing body; and
(c) proceeds from the sale of bonds issued by a county, city, or school district for the purpose of deriving revenue for the repayment of tax protests lost by the taxing jurisdiction. The governing body of a county, city, or school district is authorized to issue the bonds pursuant to procedures established by law. The bonds may be issued without being submitted to an election. Property taxes may be levied to amortize the bonds.
(8) If the department revises an assessment that results in a refund of taxes of $5 or less, a refund is not owed.""
